

Department of the Army Chooses Cardiac Services for Mobile Cath Need

Cardiac Services Mobile, Inc. (Cardiac Services) of Nashville Tennessee was honored to have been chosen to supply a Cardiac Cath Medical Trailer to the Joint Task Forces for overseas delivery. Following the Department of the Army's broad solicitation for a Mobile Cath Medical Trailer to multiple Vendors, Cardiac Services was selected as the Vendor of choice to meet their needs.

“For Cardiac Services to be selected from the many possible solicitors speaks volumes for our Company” says Ken Harb, CEO. The bidding process for procurement by the Department of the Army is a significant undertaking. Intricate details, equipment quality and service requirements were driving forces for the successful bidder. The personnel involved on both sides of the entire selection, award, preparation, site survey, delivery and clinical training played an important role in the successful placement of the equipment overseas.

Cardiac Services owns a fleet of mobile cath and vascular labs that service the Continental USA and abroad. The Company's President, Susan Boyette, adds “this is an exciting time for growth and service in the mobile/modular environment”. Following the strenuous selection process, Cardiac Services is proud to provide the Department of Defense with the transportable and affordable equipment they can use at various sites over the years. We are proud to have successfully assisted them in their needs.
