Rex Healthcare Continues To Expand

Spectra Builders recently completed three projects for Rex Healthcare, which is now a member of the UNC Health Care family. A new general practice, located in the Rex Wellness Center of Wakefield, was built from shell to office, with exam and procedure rooms, and was completed in January.

The Rex Wellness Center of Knightdale, N.C., expanded a general practice office, adding more exam and procedure rooms for the doctors' growing clientele.

Rex Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists moved their office to Cary, N.C., where Spectra renovated a plastic surgeon's office into a new state-of-the-art ENT facility complete with a separate sleep lab, offices, exam rooms, procedure rooms and a high tech sound booth.

For more information and a list of all Rex's locations, visit www.rexhealth.com.

Movin' On Up

We are pleased to announce the promotion of Joe Ramey from superintendent to project manager. Joe, who has been with Spectra Builders since October 2005, has been a great asset to the company and is always willing to go above and beyond for our clients. Incidentally, Joe is also the person who came up with Spectra's slogan, "Working Together For Excellence."

Congratulations, Joe!

Spectra's newly promoted project manager Joe Ramey.
