Volunteers needed:

Remember, how you felt when you saw the amount of people praying during your walk. Well, you now have the opportunity to be a involved with the Women's walk. There are a few slots still available on the prayer chart, please contact Kim Myers if you are able to serve by praying for the pilgrims and team.

We are planning our clean up day for the Women's walk on Saturday September 29, 2018 meeting at the campground, 9:00am until finished.

If you would like to volunteer, please contact Kim Myers at 937-690-9342 or e-mail kim.myers1976@yahoo.com

From The Community Spiritual Director

One of the most amazing stories in all of Scripture is the one about the fall of the city of Jericho. You all know the story. The Hebrews have just entered the Promised Land and one of their first obstacles is this immense, fortified city that is tightly shut and heavily protected. The plan is developed on how to overcome this obstacle. I'm sure the people were excited to learn how God was going to use Joshua to defeat this seemingly undefeatable foe. When they were told to march around the city I'm sure they did so with much anticipation of what would be the next move. At the end of the first day they were told to return to the camp. That certainly seemed to be a let-down. The second day they marched around the city and were told to return to the camp. Same on the third day. Then the fourth day came and went and all they had done was march around the city. I don't know how they felt at this point, but I think I would have been ready to head back across the Jordan and give up. I can just see them as they marched day after day wondering why they were doing this, and what they were accomplishing. I can hear the sarcastic remarks from the people on the walls: "O, no! They're marching around the city again! What should we do!" I can imagine the laughter of thy people of Jericho as they taunted the children of God. Thankfully those people marching had more faith than I would have had. They continued to do what they were told. They may not have been sure why they were doing it, but they trusted God and they trusted their leadership. God had a plan. It was going to be carried out in his time, not theirs. Because of their faithfulness and God's perfect plan and perfect timing, they were privileged to see a great work and win a great victory. Our community has had a couple of setbacks in 2018. For the first time in our existence we had no men's walks. I know this has been very discouraging to many of us. For me, it is magnified in light of the extreme success we had in 2017. In 2017 we had record numbers on our walks, but even more importantly we saw many lives changed and as a result we saw many churches and ministries strengthened. For us to struggle as we have in 2018 can make us wonder what has gone wrong. Why are we not moving forward at the moment? I'm sure the people under Joshua's leadership felt the same way. Let me assure you that God has a plan. Let me assure you that you are part of that plan. God's timing and our timing is very different. How many people have you heard say in the past that they tried to go on a walk for several years before they were actually able to do so? And then, when they were finally able to attend, they clearly saw that it was the perfect time for them. I believe that Satan is working very hard to make sure that the success of 2017 is not duplicated. I look forward to what God is going to do through our community in 2019 and I give him thanks for the women's walks we have had this year. We certainly need to be more diligent in our sponsorship duties and allow him to direct us to the people who would benefit from attending a walk, but we also need to make sure we realize that he continues to do things in his time and he will supply the pilgrims just as surely as he brought down those walls. Remain faithful, know that he is working his plan, recognize his timing.
