MEMORANDUM

TO: Administrators

FROM: Michelle Olk, Director, Employee and Labor Relations

DATE: RELEASE SEPTEMBER 23, 2022

RE: 2022-2023 CWA REPRESENTATION PER FUNCTIONAL AREA AND BUILDING

CWA has started training those who have expressed interest in becoming representatives, or Stewards, in the buildings where they work. The focus of the Stewards is to uphold the contract and represent employees therein.

Stewards may represent employees at their assigned work building when meetings/discussions with Administration or supervision take place with employees; they can be the building representative for your Let's Talk meetings, and may assist you when there is a question about the contract. They help their members with when questions arise related to the contract and may participate in labor-management meetings.

Not every building has a trained Steward yet, and so the Area Vice President is that person who is your resource for the above needs if there is not a Steward in your building. Employees are still required to obtain representation themselves in employment-related matters, but this information is provided to you on who they should call (if they ask you) and contact information for you to have handy when needed.

Please make sure your appropriate staff have this information handy if needed.

Contact information for all Area VPs and Stewards is on the next page.
