

Emails re Fire Safety

3/3/17

From the NSC:

I am attaching pictures from earlier this morning of the current state of the landscaping of LCC on Charleston Street.

Several neighbors whose property is contiguous with LCC's yard have voiced their concern over the growth of weeds, cut trees/shrubs left unremoved and the potential for fire in the area as the weather continues to improve and the vegetation dries. With the heavy rains we have experienced, it is understandable that the growth is unusually high, but with this the need for tending to the area is vital. In addition, there are two very elderly individuals with homes facing this area and they, too, are nervous about the aspect of a potential fire, as their mobility has decreased.

Bruce Rucker did some trimming this week, which is appreciated, but there is still much more that needs to be done.

Please note also that the gate to the leaning fence is often pushed open and left ajar. There have been times when young adults have entered your private property and left the gate open.

Please let me know your thoughts and when some work might be started. I will advise the neighbors accordingly.

Response from HRS:

I am forwarding this information on to our maintenance crew. I spoke with Bruce Rucker last week as well about the debris and landscaping issues.

From the NSC:

I am following up to determine if your maintenance crew has indicated when something might be done to remedy the landscaping issues.

Response from HRS:

I am meeting with maintenance next week to find out the landscaping issues on campus. I will get back to you.

From the NSC:

Do you know when the landscaping of the Lincoln Child Center might be tended to? Due to the heavy rains this past winter, the vegetation has grown quite a bit and neighbors whose homes back up onto the property are concerned of the potential fire danger as the landscaping dries.

From the NSC:

I wanted to reach out to you to determine if and when there might be some work done to clear the drying vegetation on the LCC property that we had previously communicated on.

Please let me know, as neighbors are very concerned about the potential fire danger with the area's weeds and overgrowth continuing and the warming of temperatures.

Response from HRS:

I spoke with maintenance today and they are preparing to work on the project in the next few weeks. Please contact me again if you have additional questions.
