IBTA Continues to Utilize One of the Largest, Most Trustworthy Forms of Cloud-Based At-Home Testing Networks Available

Austin, TX, February 15, 2023 – The International Business Training Association (IBTA), in true fashion, always wants the most for its customers; this is why we opt for the best when it comes to at-home certification testing: remoteproctor.com. Remote proctor is a cloud-based proctoring solution that can confirm a student's identity, and will maintain the integrity of the exam while students are in a remote location; essentially acting as a proctor when one cannot be there. One must have a valid photo ID as well as a PC or a laptop that contains both video and audio to use remote proctor. Remote proctor is used by major universities, organizations, corporate companies, and small business owners alike.

IBTA Vice President of Operations, Katherine Cohan, explains, "This is a great tool to have, especially when some students cannot make it to an on-site facility, or when they do not have a car, or just when 'life happens,' and they cannot get to a designated facility. It makes it easier for everyone, not just the students. It opens up the world of studying, working, and taking exams remotely. That's huge."

In a world that continues to go through challenges and changes, IBTA is delighted with the realization that we can allow our training partners as well as their students this necessary freedom to meet today's current climate and culture.
