October 2020

WOW what a month we have had in Douglas County!
Probably the most exciting event was the visit by President Trump at the Minden Airport on September 12, 2020 !! As Bobbi Thompson, Airport Manager, stated "it was very fast!" The airport has 48 hours to prepare for President Trump's visit. There were 28,000 people in venue and approximately 10,000 outside the grounds of the airport. Volunteers stated that people came from several states. Senator Settelmeyer opened two of his fields for parking which were packed with cars etc. What a great event for Douglas County.

Now we are gearing up for the upcoming election. As several sources have stated-- this is probably the most important election of our life times!!

I hope you have volunteered at headquarters, help at the Farmer's Market, talked to people in the grocery store, walked your precincts and passed along the word of how important this election is for our country!! If you need more information - please go to: douglasgop.org

Stay well and be safe - Brenda

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

DISTRICT COURT JUDGE DIST. 9 DEPT. 1 CANDIDATES

Caren Cafferata-Jenkins

I am Caren Cafferata-Jenkins. I would be honored to earn your vote and serve Douglas County as District Court Judge in Department 1.

Last year, only 22% of all Douglas court cases involved criminal matters. Yet, before joining the bench, both of our current judges' legal experience centered on criminal law. But real estate matters, business and commercial disputes, child abuse and neglect, juvenile, probate and family law/divorce cases fill most of the court's docket. My 25 years representing clients in civil litigation, estates & probates and family law will serve Douglas County well.

The Nevada Constitution provides that District Court judges be selected by the electorate. But only once in the last 35 years have Douglas County voters had a choice. The current Governor-appointed judges have never (and their predecessors have rarely) been challenged to account to the voters. Twice in the last 46 years an incumbent was challenged, and both time he was unseated.

If nobody runs against the incumbent, voters' voices are silenced. I am running, and I am listening. Use your voice – you finally have a choice.

I have the patience, temperament and leadership to maintain order in the courtroom. I also have the aptitude, analytical ability and experience to determine just outcomes. My leadership and management skills have been lauded. And, for nearly 3 decades, I have provided free pro bono (for the good) legal services to low income Nevadans. Various entities have recognized those contributions. But, from the beginning of my legal career, I've dreamed of serving Nevada as a District Court Judge. I ask that you recognize my ability, and elect me to the bench. Your vote can make the difference for us all.

Nathan Tod Young, incumbent

During my tenure, the court has made tremendous strides forward. I have led the modernization of our courtrooms at zero cost to Douglas County taxpayers, adding technology for evidence display and remote appearances. Our District Courts are now ADA compliant, giving access to justice for everyone on an equal basis. Under my leadership, our judiciary has saved nearly $89,000 per year by combining the CASA and SAFE programs into a single Court Advocacy office.

The position of District Court Judge requires experience and dedication. I preside over many types of cases, and in a single day may have to focus on several diverse and complex legal issues. Serious crimes, including murder, juvenile cases, family law, construction defects, guardianships, probate and water law are all just part of this important position. It is essential that the judge understands the law and the rules of evidence. I do. I am dedicated to providing fair, honest and unbiased justice to all who come before the court.

The Supreme Court of Nevada has appointed me to serve in numerous commissions and committees to promote equal access to justice throughout our state. Governor Sandoval appointed me to serve on the Commission to End the Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children. I have been honored to be appointed to hear a case for the Supreme Court when justices of that court had to recuse themselves. I have also been elected twice by my fellow judges to represent them on the State Judicial Council.

We remember Joyce Neppenriep

As the Record Courier stated "Joyce was a priceless gem"- the Carson Valley lost one of its gems on August 14, 2020 at the age of 90.

Joyce was a woman on the move all of her life helping in the family business, working at Douglas High School and probably her biggest legacy was the open of Joyce's Jewelry and Antiques which she opened in 1977. Many of us remember- a gift in red, what more needs to be said.

Joyce was a past president of Douglas County Republican Women in 1966 and the Entrepreneur of the Year in 1999.

As Barbara Smallwood said - "Joyce was a wonderful and generous Lady who loved and treasured her family, friends and community. I worked for her for several years. She was a great business woman with outstanding customer service always."

Joyce will be missed .

MINDEN WELCOMES
PRESIDENT TRUMP

Barbara Vucanovich

A Champion in Proving the Mettle of Nevada Women

At the age of 61, this remarkable woman became the FIRST WOMAN to represent Nevada in Congress. At that time, in 1982, Nevada had just been split into two districts, so she had the honor of being the voice of a majority of Nevada residents (except a bunch who lived in Clark County).

That would be mostly the RURALs (yes, I know, it also included Reno). Actually Reno played a bit of a role in Barbara's ultimately amazing career in politics. She was one of those thousands of women who came to Nevada seeking a divorce in the late 1940s.

And wouldn't you know, while bidding her time in Reno she met a dashing lawyer and after a while married him. They jumped into Republican Party politics and campaigns. After he died, Barbara married Tonopah native George Vucanovich, and it was in that same year that U. S. Senate candidate hopeful Paul Laxalt (Hmmm... that has a familiar ring ...) hired her as part of his (ultimately losing) campaign team. After well more than a decade of working together and his observing how talented Barbara was, the then Senator Laxalt (he did eventually win the seat) urged her to seek office.

Barbara is my kind of Republican. Her "political philosophy" is described as "conservative Republican" and her voting record "was consistent with the Republican platform." Oh, if only there was more of that going around today. She hits the mark on the abortion issue, too. She was solidly pro-life.

One of the notable, and very much appreciated in the rurals, pieces of legislation she proposed and got passed is the repeal of the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit. Thank you, Barbara! She impressed her fellow Representatives in the House enough to become the first Nevadan to serve in a leadership position in that body when her peers elected her their conference secretary.

She impressed the voters of Nevada enough to be re-elected a grand total of seven times—and none of the election results could be considered close. Her winning campaign slogan, "What Congress needs is a tough grandmother," should inspire all of us Republican Women to keep on keeping on in our fight to keep America on the RIGHT track.

Ginger Starrett, Americanism Chair

As a reminder, the October fund raiser was cancelled due to the heavy restrictions the Virus has inflicted. As you know its main purpose is supporting our Scholarship fund. While we hope to be able to do some type of fundraising event in the near future, there is still a lot of uncertainty. We have received some contributions for the fund and encourage our members contribute if they can. While we have adequate funds to cover 2021, we will need to replenish as soon as we can get going again.

NEVER THOUGHT I'D ADMIT REID DID SOMETHING RIGHT..

Dem Impeachment Witness on Amy Coney Barrett: 'This Combination of Smart and Nice Will be Scary for Liberals'

Bronson Stocking,

posted Sep 26, 2020 TownHall

One of the liberal law professors that Jerry Nadler tapped for a starring role in the Democrats' impeachment circus is already saying Judge Amy Coney Barrett deserves to be confirmed to the Supreme Court.

In an OpEd for Bloomberg, Harvard Law professor and Democrat impeachment witness Noah Feldman writes that he is "devastated" by former Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg's death and laments the fact that President Trump now gets to nominate a third Supreme Court justice during his first term in office. Despite his frustrations, Feldman admitted Judge Amy Coney Barrett is highly qualified to serve on the nation's highest court.

"I disagree with much of her judicial philosophy and expect to disagree with many, maybe even most of her future votes and opinions," Feldman wrote "Yet despite this disagreement, I know her to be a brilliant and conscientious lawyer who will analyze and decide cases in good faith, applying the jurisprudential principles to which she is committed. Those are the basic criteria for being a good justice. Barrett meets and exceeds them."

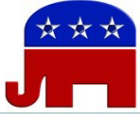

Feldman recalls meeting Barrett more than 20 years ago when both attorneys clerked for the Supreme Court in the 1998-99 term. Feldman says that out of all the thirty-some clerks, who graduated top of their law schools and came from all around the country, Barrett stood out the most.

It must be hard for a Harvard professor to admit this, but Feldman wrote that Barrett was the go-to person whenever Feldman needed help understanding extremely complex cases, "especially one involving hard-to-comprehend statutory scheme."

"This combination of smart and nice will be scary for liberals," Feldman warned. The former impeachment witness said the judge's deep commitment to her faith and conservative jurisprudence should not be treated as disqualifying. Feldman knows the process is political and with Republicans in control of both the White House and the Senate, fully expects Trump's nominee to be confirmed.

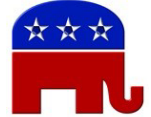

"Elections have consequences, and so do justices' decisions about when or whether to retire," Feldman writes. "Trump is almost certainly going to get his pick confirmed."

"And when she is confirmed," Feldman continued, "I am going to accept it as the consequence of the constitutional rules we have and the choices we collectively and individually have made. And I'm going to be confident that Barrett is going to be a good justice, maybe even a great one — even if I disagree with her all the way."
