

InvestShares LLC

Customer Relationship Summary (Form CRS)

June 30, 2020

Introduction

InvestShares LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a broker-dealer and is a member firm of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). There are different ways you can get help with your investments. As a broker-dealer, we provide our clients with brokerage accounts and services. Additionally, we provide advisory services through an affiliated state registered investment adviser, InvestShares Advisors Group LLC (InvestShares Advisors). You should carefully consider which types of accounts and services are right for you. This document gives you a summary of the types of services we provide and how you pay for those services.

Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for the retail investor to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available for you to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, a website maintained by the SEC. These tools can also provide you with educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer brokerage services to retail investors, including buying and selling securities. Our services include discussing your investment goals, assistance with developing or executing an investment strategy, on-going communications, making investment recommendations consistent with your investment strategy and facilitating the execution and settlement of your securities transactions.

We generally provide services on a non-discretionary basis, and to this end, you may select investments, or we may recommend investments for your account, but you are responsible for the ultimate investment decision for your investment strategy and the purchase or sale of investments. Our investment advice covers a limited selection of investments, and as such, we do not monitor performance. Other firms could provide advice on a wider range of choices, some of which might have lower cost. We do not have any requirements for retail investors to open or maintain an account or establish an advisory relationship with us.

Additionally, we can offer you additional services to assist you with your investment goals, including insurance products, and investment advisory services through InvestShares Advisors (see our ADV Part 2A Brochure for additional information regarding these advisory activities).

Additional Information

For additional information on our brokerage activities please see our Regulation Best Interest Disclosure, your account agreement, or other applicable documents, or on our website: www.investshares.com. For information on the advisory activities of InvestShares Advisors see its Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure. Additionally, you can contact us about our services at 305-350-2100.

Conversation Starter: - Ask your financial professional -

- Given my financial situation, should I choose a brokerage service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Principal Fees and Costs

If you open a brokerage account, you will pay us a transaction-based fee, generally referred to as a commission, every time you buy or sell an investment. While our fees vary and are negotiable, the amount you pay will depend, for example, on how much you buy or sell, what type of investment you buy or sell, and what kind of account you have with us. With stocks or exchange-traded funds, this fee is usually a separate commission. With other investments, such as bonds, this fee might be part of the price you pay for the investment (called a “mark-up” or “mark down”). With mutual funds, this fee (typically called a “load”) reduces the value of your investment.

Ultimately, the more transactions in your account, the more fees we charge you. We therefore have an incentive to encourage you to engage in transactions.

Other Fees and Costs

We are also charged additional fees, such as custodial fees, account maintenance charges, account inactivity fees, deferred sales charges, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on custodial brokerage accounts and securities transactions and other transactional fees and product level fees, some of which we may share in. Some investments (such as mutual funds and variable annuities) impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time. Also, with certain investments such as variable annuities, you may have to pay fees such as “surrender charges” to sell the investment.

Additional Information

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Please see our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure, Regulation Best Interest Disclosures, and other applicable documents for additional information regarding our fees and costs; and the Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure, Form ADV Part 2A Appendix 1 for InvestShares Advisors for information regarding its fees and costs.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional and start a conversation about the impact of fees and costs on investments -

- Help me understand how these fees and costs affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations? How else does the firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we provide you with a recommendation [or – We do not make recommendations, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the recommendations and investment advice, we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- Certain managers and sponsors share the revenue they earn with us when you invest in certain of their investment products (primarily mutual funds and variable annuities) with us. As such, we have an incentive to recommend (or to invest your assets in) products of sponsors and managers that share their revenue with us, over other products of sponsors or managers that do not share their revenue, or who share less.

Additional Information

For additional information, please see our Regulation Best Interest Disclosures, and other applicable documents.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional -

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Your financial professional is paid a base salary and earns compensation based upon a portion of the sales commissions resulting from buying and selling securities for your brokerage account, the advisory fees we earn for advisory services, and the purchases insurance products through affiliated firms. As a result, your financial professional may have a financial incentive to buy and sell securities in your brokerage account, to increase your portfolio assets under management, and to sell you insurance products.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. Please see www.Investor.gov/CRS or <https://brokercheck.finra.org> for a free and simple tool to research the background and experience of us and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional:

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Where can I find additional information?

For additional information regarding our services, please see our, Regulation Best Interest Disclosures, and other applicable documents, or you can contact Michael J. Goggins for additional information by phone at 305-350-2100, or by email at mgoggins@investshares.com.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional -

- Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Whom can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?
