Civility

MLMA's 2019 conference at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing on May 21, 2019 will focus on a troubling issue in today's society that affects our economy, workplaces, relationships and partnerships between Labor and Management, and our personal health. The issue of "CIVILITY" will be examined by an economist from Michigan State University, the Vice-President of the MEA, a Human Resources Specialist, and an Organizational Development Specialist in personal health management. Our new Governor, Gretchen Whitmer will be speaking on the FY2020 State Budget.

Participants will also be provided an opportunity to discuss this issue in a round table format, facilitated by our presenters. MLMA will present its annual "Collaborative Leadership" awards to a School Superintendent, a UAW Vice-President, as well as to two long serving leaders of the Muskegon Area Labor-Management Committee.

Attached is a registration flyer with information about how to register. Information about MLMA can be found at WWW.MLMA.ORG
