

Saturday, February 13, 2010 from 2-5pm

Center Valentine's Party

As Wilhelm Reich correctly observed, we all owe our existence to the enigma of love. On Saturday February 13, from 2-5 pm, we will be celebrating Love Itself at the Center for New Knowledge. Traditionally, Valentine's Day is a time for couples to celebrate their relationships. At the Center, we will celebrate the primordial force that is at the root of our existence.

We hope you can join us for some light refreshments, desserts, and good conversation!