

Greetings from Paul

Hi everyone,

The time from when the spring newsletter and this newsletter has seen a lot of circumstances. I want to first thank everyone for their love and support. On August 22, 2019 my world forever changed as I lost my spouse unexpectedly.

During this time, my answers to fans new and established was not as quick or as enthusiastic as it may have been if this passing didn't take place.

It's now been four months and I am still so very devastated over the loss. All of you and Juice and Brenda, have been so kind and understanding to me and I can only say thank you so very much.

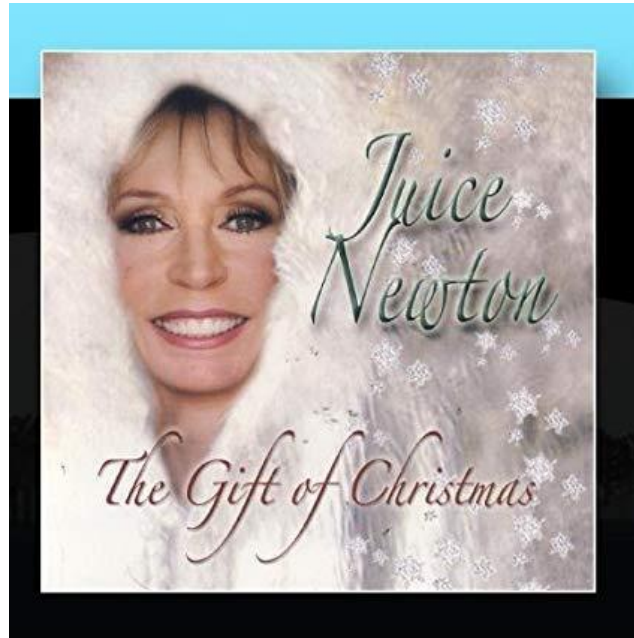

This Christmas will be so very different and I am sure my grief will be heavy. I am hoping that 2020 will be a year that brings us all love, light and peace.

Quiet Year

As you are aware, Juice has been quiet over the past year. She continues to reemphasize her love for her fans and it very much enjoying a long break.

Juice does not have any tour dates lined up for 2020. However, I will be sure to inform you when they arrive.

Holiday Message from Juice

“Every year brings its challenges and unexpected events. The year 2019 is no different. At this time, reflect on those around you and those you may have lost. Bring the current and past together to create a memorable moment. Cherish those around you and celebrate the season. Merry Christmas to all my fans!”

Merchandise

As you are aware, I was looking into JNFC merchandise. While I will still look into this venture, I was not able to enact on this to the fullest extent due to the passing of my spouse.

Changes

There are changes coming to the JNFC. Visit the JNFC official site and Juice’s official site often to find out what these are.

Lyrics

Many people ask for lyrics to many of Juice's songs, both hits and album recorded songs. I have found a site that has many of Juice's song lyrics. Check it out below and I will add it to Juice's official site links page.

New Music or Compilations

Juice's new album is still on a hiatus as she backs off from show business for a while. I will ask her about this again in 2019. There aren't any new compilations of Juice's music at this time.

Wrap It Up

I wish you all the HAPPIEST of holidays and may all your wishes come true!

Love and hugs,

Paul and Juice
