The Mankoff Company LLC & CommPRO.biz Announce Strategic Partnership

New York, NY September 17, 2019: The Mankoff Company, LLC, a marketing consultancy concentrating in the FinTech and Crypto space, and CommPRO.biz, a B2B digital media platform, announce a strategic partnership starting this month.

In this collaboration of two highly-regarded and respected marketing and media organization, both firms will be involved in The Mankoff Company's signature After the Bell series of events and CommPRO's fintech and financial events through their hosting of the BitAngels New York investor breakfasts. After the Bell events engage and educate about the top-of-mind issues in finance and FinTech. These panel discussions combine leading industry speakers with the opportunity to engage in networking and are not streamed or recorded. CommPro's BitAngels breakfast meetings aims to accelerate blockchain adoption globally by connecting entrepreneurs, investors, and the community through these exclusive networking events.

"We're very excited to be working alongside Fay and the CommPRO/BitAngels organizations. This enables us to further our role as connector within the FinTech and crypto community as well as partner with an experienced marketing firm" said Stacey Mankoff, Managing Principal of The Mankoff Company.

Fay Shapiro, Publisher at CommPRO.biz said "CommPRO is thrilled to be partnering with The Mankoff Company as we're now able to offer access to the world-class events facilitated by Stacey and The Mankoff Company and really highlight cutting-edge discussions and opportunities in this space."

Currently, the After the Bell series of events are planned in five cities through 2019 and early 2020 and the next BitAngels breakfast will be taking place in late October. Schedules are available on the websites.
